EASTERN DATES TO MAY 9.

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE

The Situation Unchanged

VERSAILLES May 8—A new battery at Montretout opened a moderate fire on Paris to day The Bombardment will be renewed with greater energy to-morrow

The fire from Issy to Vanvres to day was very weak Other Federal batteries kept up a vigorous cannonade

PARIS, May 8—All continues to go well

Mouton Signet and Bouyeres have received reinforcements

VERSAILLES, May 8—In the Assembly to-day Picard stigmatized the projected Congress at Bordeaux as criminal, and announced that steps have been taken by the government to prevent its assemblage

PARIS, May 3—Evening—Dupont is appointed commander of Fort Issy

Lacecla will probably command on the right bank of the Seine

All the journals of Paris even the most conservative, condemn the action of the Versailles government in prohibiting the assembling of the projected Congress

A Formal Treaty of Peace between Germany and France

LONDON, May 8—A rumor comes from Brussels that a formal treaty of peace has been signed at Frankfort

Bismarck has not yet returned to Berlin but is expected to morrow

English Affairs

LONDON May 8—In the House of Lords this evening, the University test bill was sustained by five majority.

In the House of Commons the discussion upon the new army regulations bill was resumed After a prolonged debate, the House divided with a majority of 66 against the purchase of commissions

There was a strong to day at Oldham a great cotton manufacturing town near Manchester originating in a lock out It is not known that any lives were lost

WASHINGTON CITY

General Statement of the Results reached by the Joint High Commission

WASHINGTON, May 8—The following which will appear in the Washington Republican to morrow morning is an official statement of the results of the labors of the Joint High Commission

The treaty is to be known as the treaty of Washington for the adjustment of claims for injury alleged by the United States on account of the escape of Confederate cruisers from British ports and depredations committed by those vessels during the late rebellion in this country, the tribunal of arbitration constituted to consist of five arbitrators, one appointed by the United States, one by Great Britain, and the other three each by a designated neutral power of a state of Europe or America The treaty establishes special rules as to neutrals' duties and obligations in addition to generally received public law, which rules although not admitted by the British Commissioners to have been in force at the time, yet it is agreed to let them govern the decisions of the Tribunal of Arbitration

The Tribunal may either award damages in detail or in gross or at its discretion, may refer this duty to a Board of Assessors sitting in the United States, who also shall report from time to time, and payment is to be made accordingly The British Government frankly expresses its regrets for the occurrence of incidents complained of by the United States For the adjudication of all other claims of citizens of the United States against Great Britain and against the United States during the same period (from April 1861 to April, 1865) an ordinary mixed Commission is provided, to sit at Washington with an umpire to be nominated if necessary by a designated friendly power This limitation of time is material, for it confines reclamation against the United States to incidents of actual war accompanied also with a declaration of the British Commissioners to the effect that in excluding claims on account of slave property Great Britain does not recognize the claims of subjects for seizure of cotton in cases where they took up their abode in the South, as they became subject to the contingencies of war

In regard to fisheries, in addition to the liberty already secured to them by the treaty of 1818 fishermen of the United States shall have liberty to take sea fish on the sea coast and shores, and in the bays harbors and rivers of the Provinces of Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, and the Colony of Prince Edward Island and islands adjacent, without being restricted to any distance from shore, with permission to land upon such coasts shores and islands and also on Magdalen Islands for the purpose of drying nets and curing fish, subject of course in this respect to local rights and private property The same liberty is granted to British subjects on Eastern seacoasts and shores of the United States north of the 39th parallel of latitude This liberty is not to include in either side shell fish or salmon and shad fisheries or other fisheries in rivers and mouths of rivers It is further agreed that fish oil of all kinds, except fish of inland lakes and their rivers, and except fish preserved in oil the produce of the fisheries of the United States, or of the dominion of Canada, or of Prince Edward's Island, shall be admitted into each country respectively free of duty

Privileges thus conceded to the United States are most important ones It is asserted by the British Government, but not admitted by the United States, that the privileges accorded to the United States are of greater value than those accorded to the subjects of Great Britain; and to prevent or avoid controversy on this point it is agreed that a mixed Commission with an Umpire to be appointed by a designated friendly power shall determine whether any compensation for such alleged excess of privileges, and how much ought to be paid by the United States

Various questions of navigation and transit are disposed of by declaring the navigation of the river St Lawrence, and the rivers of Yucatan, the Porcupine and Stikine forever free and open to citizens and subjects of both countries by providing for the equal use of the St Lawrence and other canals in the Dominion on the one hand, and of Lake Michigan and the St Clair Flats and canal on the other, by providing for free transit of merchandise to and from, as well in the British Possessions as in the United States, and abolishing the provisional export duty on American lumber on the river St John

These provisions concerning the fisheries and the commercial transit are of course made contingent upon their being approved by the Congress of the United States and the British Parliament, the Parliament of Canada and the Legislature of Prince Edward's Island By these various stipulations all the principles of the fishery navigation and transit accorded to the United States by the treaty of 1854 are once more obtained, and in better form and with at the burdensome conditions of that treaty in the matter of reciprocal importations

Pending the subjects of controversy between the two Governments there remains to be considered the question of the northwestern boundary line That line by the treaty of 1846 runs by the middle channel which separates the continent from Vancouver's Island But several such channels exist Great Britain contends that the channel of that treaty is Rosario Straits the United States contends that it is the Canal de Haro—the two channels being separated by the Island of San Juan The question having once been reported on by a mixed Commission for a survey of the line, the United States is not content to refer it to another such Commission nor has it been deemed convenient even though such tribunal be appointed by a friendly sovereign power Instead of this it has been agreed to refer the matter to a friendly power The Emperor of Germany has been selected for the purpose The Government of the United States has in its hands much documentary evidence in support of its pretensions not heretofore made use of, and on these grounds is confident that the better reasons on its side to assure to the United States the Rosario Straits of the Island of San Juan.

Such are the outlines of the provisions of the present treaty, and such are some of the considerations which have commended it to the approbation of the President

The Chicago Scandal

A few weeks ago a scandal case was developed in Chicago and an injured husband shot and killed the intruder into his home On the 1st inst the Grand Jury had the matter up for consideration and discharged the accused one P A Leonard The man who was killed was S. A Scanland brother in law of Leonard The action of the Grand Jury created considerable excitement Although public sympathy was with the accused the extraordinary action of the Grand Jury took everybody by surprise and called forth severe comments from the press Following are extracts

The Times says "It is not a customary practice of the Grand Jury to try the question of guilt or innocence of a party accused of crime, that is commonly the work of the courts and a petit jury, but it seems that our Cook county Grand Jury did try the case of young Leonard accused of the murder of Dr Scanland and acquitted him The proceeding will strike the public as extraordinary It may have been desirable as affecting some living persons, but is affecting the administration of justice it is simply a public scandal There are perhaps as many people who think the homicide not justifiable as there are who think the reverse and there can be many right minded people who think the case should have been dismissed by a Grand Jury"

The Inter Ocean says it was generally conceded that Leonard had a very strong case to go before a petit jury with, and very few of those conversant with the affair would have expressed a belief in his ultimate conviction, but this summary disposal of the case will not fail to elicit reflections more or less serious upon the mode of justice and law in Chicago

The Republican says the discretion of the jury is somewhat large, we admit but it is not unlimited Grand juries are guardians of the interests and not the proprietors of society They have not the power to pardon nor to forestall justice In this case the grand jury has usurped the functions of the court and jury without the power which they possess to make of it a final disposition Leonard is not acquitted, he is not free from the danger of further prosecution The corpus delicti being known to have been committed, public satisfaction has not been given Such an escape does not release from suspicion On the contrary, it invites suspicion but the party was afraid of a public trial The grand jury had been wrought upon either through its interests or its social sympathies or by means of exterior illegitimate influences The majority of the law and good fame of this society is dishonored by the transaction The appearance is that of a thing hastily hushed up lest some unseemly social nottenness in high places should be exhibited to the public gaze, and the vulgar be permitted to learn that all the uncleanness is not with themselves

The Spectre Rouge.

A JOINT REQUEST TO GERMANY TO INTERFERE IN PARIS—THE HOLY ALLIANCE TO BE REVIVED

The Paris Herald has the following The events in Paris and the rapid success of the Communal revolution have produced the most profound emotion in the European Cabinets At Vienna, St Petersburg, Florence, and even London there are great fears of the advent to power of the men who for many years have been pointed out to the police as dangerous agitators and ardent propagandists of the universal revolution The International movement has been since the first days of its existence a subject of much anxiety to the different governments The latter thought themselves safe from the revolutionary activity of this association by the imprisonment of its leaders To day, the International, which was a secret society but yesterday, holds in its hands the Capital of France Its influence abroad is spreading daily day and its relations extend to England Germany, Switzerland and even to Russia The agents of this revolutionary movement are resolved to use all the means in their power to bring about the triumph of their principles This is what alarms the statesmen of Europe They fear that the firebrand, of which Paris is the hot-bed, will sooner or later, reach their own countries In order to avert the danger these diplomats now place all their hopes in the German Empire The rapid development of Prussia does no longer trouble them They see in the new State only a champion of the Conservative cause against revolution Negotiations have been commenced It is said that a note has been sent to Berlin to acquaint Prussia that Europe would see without repugnance, but on the contrary with pleasure the intervention of the German army in the affairs of Paris Moreover Russia Austria and Italy are said to have made an offered declaration to the Cabinet of Berlin to the effect that in case Prussia should interfere she could invoke the moral support of the great powers and decline in common with them that it was not only from a German point of view, but from the standpoint of the general interests of Europe that the interference took place We do not know what reception will be given at Berlin to the attempt to renew the holy alliance Let us however admit that the tone of the German press does not favor the supposition that Prussia is particularly anxious to play the policeman for the benefit of the International reaction

Seward's Telegraph Bills

In the Court of Claims at Washington the other day a suit instituted by the New York and London Telegraph Company against the United States came up A report says

This is a suit for a large amount of tolls on cable telegrams sent by the Government to to foreign Governments during Mr Seward's term of office as Secretary of State A motion to continue the case was argued on the ground of the necessity of obtaining further evidence from Mr Seward The Court held the motion under advisement and will decide it to morrow The amount claimed to be due is $32 240 the entire amount of the bills for ocean telegrams sent from November 10 1866 to October 5 1867 being $31 540 in coin Included in the indebtedness is a dispatch from Mr Seward to Mr Bigelow, $19 540 53, chargable in gold there being forty eight words in English, and 3 071 in cipher The largest amount from that last mentioned paid in gold by the Department of State was for a dispatch from Mr Seward to Prince Gortschakoff St Petersburg, about the 1st of last month numbering 1 833 words and costing $3 886 50

It appears from the documents that Mr Seward could not sanction the items for the unpaid telegrams upon any other principle than that those telegrams be paid for not as ciphers but as words Peter Cooper in his petition as President of the Telegraph Company, says the services were performed in the manner set forth, and the United States were bound by Mr Seward's acts in their behalf and should make payment for transmitting any messages by cable according to the tariff of charges then in existence, and which were posted in the telegraph office of the War Department, whence these messages were sent, and which tariff of charges was known to the Secretary of State at the time of sending the messages, and at the time of sending, and paying for other messages similarly sent and charged in the accounts, and paid for at the tariff rates as charged

The Republicans last week carried the municipal election at Indianapolis by 1,000 majority

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 10, 1871.

British Columbia and Canada.

One of the conditions on which the union of British Columbia with Canada is to be based is a guarantee by the Dominion Government that a railway shall be constructed on British American soil to the Pacific Ocean. This is the great inducement for British Columbia to join the Confederation. And certainly the inducement is one of sufficient magnificence. But it appears that the Canadians, on whom the weight of this prodigious [illegible] is to fall, are widely alarmed at the magnitude of the undertaking. They perceive that they are taking on themselves a burden more heavy, in proportion to their population and wealth, than our national debt, and a great many newspapers remonstrate earnestly, and even vehemently, against it. One journal says that "the terms on which British Columbia is to be brought into the Union are monstrous and unparalleled." Another expresses "amazement at the recklessness of legislators in committing the country to an undertaking which will certainly cost one hundred millions of dollars, and may involve the country in an expenditure fully double that amount." A third paper declares that a "purchased majority" is "contracting obligations which will burden the Dominion with an almost unbearable tax." A fourth journal pronounces it a "suicidal proposition," carried through with a recklessness and wilfulness utterly [illegible] to reason." A large number [illegible] contain similar utterances. Already the Dominion has a large debt, and from the magnitude of this vast additional undertaking the people may well start back in alarm. If this prodigious work is seriously undertaken the Dominion we shall expect to see [illegible] whelm the people with debt, and in the course of a few years paralyze the country. The difficulties of the route are of the most formidable character. To build so long and so expensive a road within the space of ten years, which is the time prescribed in the terms of union, will tax the resources of the country to the uttermost and make the Dominion of Canada the best place in America to emigrate from. In fact, the failure of the enterprise may not only be anticipated, but even with reasonable certainty predicted. The Canadian press is right in declaring that the country cannot carry so great a load. Its increase in population and wealth is slow at best; but with this new burden it will be much slower, and may even come to a stand still.

The Great Northern Highway.

The Northern Pacific Railroad Company publish in the great daily papers of New York a map of the route of their road indicating its connections from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic and tracing the isothermal lines across the continent. Accompanying the map is a descriptive article on the "new northwest" on account of the preparations made for prosecuting the work on the road, a statement of the prospective business of the road and a description of the great land grant. The greatest efforts are now being made by the Company to advertise the enterprise and to show both in America and Europe the vast resources of the country that will be traversed by the road. The New York Tribune and Times have leading editorials on this great national work. The first named paper says: "It concerns not only the development of America, but the relief of Europe, and, in a great and incalculable measure the civilization of the world. As citizens and philanthropists, we cannot fail to feel the keenest interest in its success. If its managers succeed in the great design it is to have proposed to themselves, they will have performed a work for the world hardly second to that of him who led the children of Israel out of Egypt into a land flowing with milk and honey, and perpetuated their [illegible] by founding a nomadic and indestructible race, as the projectors of the Pacific Railway propose to perpetuate their [illegible] by founding a capacious and continuing city for all the wanderers of the earth."

A Democratic Exhibit.

We have heretofore given some account of Democratic financiering in New York, where taxation is rapidly increasing and public debt growing constantly larger. The knaves who are piling up these burdens and enriching themselves by public robbery are the very class who prate loudest about "Radical fraud and mismanagement." The Herald often has much to say in condemnation of Republican financial policy, though that policy is rapidly reducing the national debt and cutting down national taxation. Will it now attend to the following, which gives an account of Democratic financial policy by which taxation and public debts are every year largely increased? Here is the exhibit:

The New York Legislature which has just adjourned authorized the corporation of the metropolis to issue city bonds this year to an amount sufficient to raise twelve and a half millions dollars. This immense sum, in addition to about three millions of bonds authorized last year, is to be expended by the Tammany Ring. The total cost of governing the city this year, including, besides this bond issue, twenty-four millions to be raised by taxation, six millions of street assessments, and nearly two and a half millions for fees, licenses, permits, fines, and, is estimated at forty eight millions of dollars. This represents a burden of fifty dollars a head for each inhabitant. The present debt of the city is between eighty and one hundred millions. The new bonds will increase it by nearly sixteen millions. Of fifty millions of the debt is held by the Savings Banks, the local press is beginning to speculate upon the effect the new issues may have a depreciating all the city securities, and so [illegible] by MAKING the welfare of the poorer classes who are mostly concerned in these banks.

The decay of trade between New York and San Francisco by the Isthmus route is startlingly shown by figures just published in San Francisco papers. For the quarter ending on the 31st December last, the value of all goods carried by that route was $2,234,872. For the same quarter of the preceding year the value was $14,419,998. It will be seen that the Pacific Railroad is effecting nearly a total change in the route of commerce and trade between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

The San Juan question, it appears, is to be left to the arbitration of the Emperor of Germany. The American people will be quite willing to submit the plain facts to the sound judgment of "Old Fritz," and will abide his decision. Only one result, as we conceive, is possible. We shall get the island, because the facts pertaining to the matter in dispute are on our side.

The San Francisco Bulletin states that a prominent capitalist of that city has offected a loan of $700,000 from one of the city banks at eight per cent. per annum. As that paper remarks, this indicates a plentitude for money and a tendency to lower charges for its use, which is encouraging to enterprise on the Pacific coast.

Very fine marble is found in Baker county, near Pocahontas.

The Treaty with England.

At last we have a pretty full account of the conditions which the Joint High Commiss on have agreed upon as the basis of a treaty between the United States and Great Britain. It must occur to every reader that the general terms of this protocol are quite favorable to the United States. The Alabama claims are to be fairly settled and Great Britain withdraws from the position which she maintained during our war and which gave rise to our claim upon her. In the matter of the fisheries an adjustment is proposed on terms equitable to both parties, and the northwest boundary question is to be referred to the arbitration of the Emperor of Germany. The dispatches of to-day state the principles of the settlement in detail. It is believed that the Senate will ratify at once an arrangement so favorable to the United States. That body will meet in special session to-day (Wednesday.) The Administration is likely to achieve a remarkable success in conducting those negotiations and bringing a difficult controversy to an honorable settlement.

The Chinese laborers in Louisiana have "struck" and refuse to work longer. They say they will leave the country because they can't get pay enough,—which is to be regretted, inasmuch as it renders obsolete another great "principle" of a certain political party. "Dead issues" are going to the graveyard thick and fast.

The Democratic paper at La Grande is very severe on the Republican party for "plunging the country into civil strife." That paper seems to suppose that it was Republicans who were defeated in the Presidential election in 1860, who fired on Fort Sumter, got thrashed at Gettysburg and surrendered at Appomattox.

The delinquent School Director does not yet rise to explain. He coolly ignores the whole matter alleged against him. It is clear that he is not one of those whom conscience makes cowards of. Hamlet was not wholly right. But there are exceptions to almost every human rule.

The "Brown Library."

BERIAH'S SUIT AGAINST THE CITY OF SAN FRANCISCO—A RICH REPORT.

[From the San Francisco Chronicle, May 8.]

The attention of Judge Morrison was occupied yesterday forenoon in considering the case entitled "Beriah Brown vs. the City and County of San Francisco." This action was brought to recover many thousand dollars, the value of the professional library belonging to Beriah in 1865, at which time he was the sole editor of that veracious Democratic sheet, the Democratic Press. On the day when the news of Lincoln's assassination came patriotic citizens became excited and committed several "indiscretions," among which was the gutting of the Press office, the destruction of the private library of Beriah "aforesaid," and the [illegible] of Beriah himself, who, fearing that his time had come, sought safety in flight to the hills of Contra Costa over the bay. The

OMNISCIENT LEGISLATURE

Obligingly authorized Beriah to recover the actual value of his losses, and he accordingly instituted proceedings. The trial, long delayed, came off yesterday, Judge Larrabee of Oregon, "as a labor of love," appearing for Beriah, and the City Attorney, W. C. Burnett, from the same sense of duty, representing the city's interests. There was no excitement, only a few strugglers being present. Beriah having long since taken up his residence in the land where the Columbia gently flows on to the sea (vulgus, Oregon), was not present, except in spirit. In 1870, while Joe Nougues was City Attorney, interrogatories were prepared and sent to Beriah for his answers; but, for some reason, no cross interrogatories were sent, and Beriah made a clean one-sided breast of the whole matter. He declared that his library was the accumulation of

THREE YEARS OF PATIENT SEARCH,

That it contained the rarest of Democratic authorities—among others, Calhoun's States Rights Doctrines and the Resolutions of '98; that for one tome alone he had refused fifty dollars—whether in Confederate scrip or bonds, he said not; that he loved his books as the idols of his heart; that he wept when he learned that they had been burned by a mob as a sacrifice on the altar of patriotism; that the books could never be replaced; that compared with the burning of his books the destruction of Moscow by Napoleon, or the burning of the library at Alexandria, were but pleasant little bonfires; that the works and speeches of Jeff. Davis, Horatio Seymour, of Garrett Davis and Ben Butler, of George Pen Johnson and Ben Washington were all in ashes; and that the market value was $14,200, which was all he wanted the city to pay, and, said Judge Larrabee,

"BERIAH IS TOO CONSCIENTIOUS

To overestimate. He always undervalues his worldly possessions."

The City Attorney objected to the introduction of Beriah's deposition, but Judge Morrison overruled the objection, and the city's representative gracefully accepted, and the court notified Clerk Boden to "note" the objection, which feat Boden successfully accomplished.

Burnett then moved to strike out portions of Beriah's deposition because it was hearsay. But Judge Morrison wouldn't, and another exception was taken and noted. Judge Larrabee had no other evidence except Beriah's affidavit, and there were no cross interrogations by which his wild assertions as to charges might might have been explained.

The City Attorney called

WARREN C. BUTLER,

Who was present at the destruction of the famed Brown Library, as a spectator. He saw all the books. They numbered as many as would fill four shelves four feet long. One half were patent office reports, worth ten cents per volume for kindling purposes; one quarter were directories and such like, and the balance were pamphlets, magazines and newspapers. He had some experience in the business of book-selling and he lumped all the books together and thought they were worth, say $50.

J. A. WOODSON

Was then applied to. He had frequently seen Beriah's library. It contained about 300 or 400 books of various kinds; some Patent Office reports and some magazines; but he couldn't fix their value. Beriah had loaned him books—"Democracy in America," and he knew the books were of a miscellaneous character. The testimony then closed. Judge Larrabee claimed $1,200. The City Attorney thought Butler's valuation about correct, but Judge Morrison promptly concluded that Beriah's deposition was the only evidence worth considering, as he knew all about the books and Butler didn't; so he ordered Beriah's heart to be gladdened by a judgment for $1,200, the amount claimed, without interest. Twenty days stay of proceedings were granted, to the evident disgust of Judge Larrabee, who wanted to go down-stairs instanter and get the ducats from Treasurer Kloppenberg. And so ends for the present the story of the "Burning of Beriah's Library."

The richest copper mine on the Pacific coast is to be found in Union county. It assays ninety-five per cent. copper, and contains enough silver to pay for the working of the lodge.

The Chicago Tribune says: "The Democratic Senators and Representatives in Congress have issued an address to the American people which, for glaring falsehood and for shameless effrontery, has hardly been equaled in political literature."

PACIFIC COAST DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—The Amador Mine, in California, pays a dividend of $2 50 per share against $2 last month, and the North Star $4 instead of $3.

Reporters yesterday were taking the deposition of Bob Holladay in the matter of the suit for the recovery of the interest of Simon G. Elliott in the Oregon and California Railroad, which has been going on for the past two weeks before J. G. Carson, Notary Public, and is still going on. Two thousand questions have already been asked, answered and reduced to writing, and about a thousand more will be asked. Yesterday he testified as to the details of his assets and liabilities, but the particulars thereof have not yet transpired. Wm. H. Patterson and John H. Felton appear for plaintiff, and Hall & Cutler, McAllister, T. J. Bergin, and Alex. Campbell for defendant. It is understood that the revelations will be of great interest to the public, as showing how matters of great incorporations are manipulated.

The steamer Capitol, now running on the Vallejo line, collided with the schooner Laura F. Hamon at the Front street wharf to-day. The schooner is badly damaged.

A young girl who attended the picnic of the Lafayette Guard, on Sunday, landed at Meigg's wharf on her return stupefied from drugs administered by some party unknown and with object only suspected, no opportunity having occurred to carry their designs into execution.

Stocks broke badly this afternoon, Point being sold down to $210—seller 60; $220 cash; Belcher $120, buyer $10, and the whole list suffering considerably. A well defined effort to break down the bull combination on Point and Belcher was made to day, offers to sell at a heavy decline on sixty days being made freely, and the result was a partial success, though both rallied a little at the close. Sales were smaller than at any session for several months.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—The first Artists' reception and soiree of the San Francisco Art Association at the Mercantile Library Hall, this evening, was very largely attended. The company is among the most brilliant ever gathered in San Francisco, and the entire affair is a splendid success. The appearance of the Hall is exceedingly fine.

There was no quorum at the annual meeting of the Merchant's Exchange this evening.

Mrs. Lander nee Davenport, had another superb audience this evening and has established herself as a first class favorite with San Francisco in the peculiar line in which Mrs. Bowers won such fame.

The running race on the Pacific course, Alameda, for a $5,000 purse—$3,000 to the first, $1,500 to the second, and $500 to the third horse, drew a large crowd to-day, notwithstanding the unpleasant weather. There were eight entries, but only the following started: D. Hawyer, s g Albacombe, 3 years; R. T. Hanlon, b m Miami Hall, 4 yrs; T. Atcheson gr m Tom Atcheson, 3 yrs; J. M. Dickerson, b. c. Rois D'Arc, 4 years; Jas. Shelton, br. m. Null Flaherty, 4 years; Henry Walsh, br. c. Oliver Cromwell. Null was the favorite, Tom Atchison second. Tom won the race in three straight heats. Time, 1:46¾, 1:49, and 1:47¼. Oliver Cromwell 2d, Bois D'Arc 3d, Null Flaherty 4th, Mauri Hall 5th. Pools on to-morrow's race are selling well, Ben Butler being the favorite, and Capt Jinks second. Bois D'Arc evidently could have won the 2d heat, but his rider pulled him up until his nose was clear around on his flank, when he made a sudden bolt and went through the fence, falling full length, and pitching the boy about twenty feet, without, however, injuring him seriously, much to the dissatisfaction of many of the spectators who, seeing the throw off was such a palpable one, were loudly incensed and denounced the whole affair as an outrage. The judges contented themselves with reprimanding the boy.

Vicente Avalos was convicted in the Municipal Court to-day of obtaining goods by false pretences.

The Marysville lottery will be drawn on Monday next, positively, the delay being necessary to clear up the business of the different agencies.

NEVADA.

Fire at Carson.

CARSON, May 9.—The residence of Messrs. Mara & Magee was almost entirely destroyed by fire this afternoon. Cause of the fire is supposed to be a defective flue; loss, $1,500, no insurance.

The Supreme Court has denied a rehearing in the Rhodes' bond war case, and it now goes back to the court below for a new trial.

Deposits of gold and silver bullion at the branch mint for the past six days amount to $143,223 73.

THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 10, 1871.

CITY.

BOARD OF TRADE.—To the call of the annual meeting of this organization, last evening, only a quorum of six members responded, and these not all at the same time. Messrs. Ladd, the President; Col. Drake, Secretary, L. H. Wakefield and S. Quackenbush, were present at 8 o'clock and remained till nearly 9. Mr. Quackenbush was not to drum up a quorum, but only succeeded in getting in Mr. C. M. Carter. After the adjournment of the Board of Police Commissioners, however, came in, making the whole number present SIX—our reporter in the back-ground not counting. Seven being the constitutional number, nothing could be done. Mr. Drake left in the belief that having attended seven consecutive monthly failures, the seventh would be let him out. Col. Drake thought he should hardly take the trouble to call the Board together again; and so the members quietly left, leaving the Board of Trade as dead as it ever had been or will be.

WILLAMETTE RIVER BRIDGE.—The Bridge Committee, consisting of Messrs J. A. Strowbridge, John Watson, E. J. Northrup, D. Monnastes, J. [illegible], J. Kamm and C. P. Ferry, has issued a circular to the public urging action in the matter of building a bridge across the Willamette at this city. The arguments set forth in favor of the action are numerous and forcible, and [illegible] by the committee that figures can be shown to prove the cost of the bridge a fairly payable investment. The organization of the present Board is as follows: President, L. M. Starr; Secretary, A. M. Lovejoy; Directors, H. Failing and P. Francescan. The probable cost of the bridge is stated at $150,000.

PASSENGERS FOR CALIFORNIA.—The steamship Alaska, Sherwood, Commander, sailed at 6 o'clock yesterday, for San Francisco, taking the following named passengers: C H Dodd, James Boyle, D L Scott, J Collins, U S A; George T Sherwood, Capt Sherwood, J B McBride, Elias Chenoweth and wife, M Ramler and wife, Mrs Cahl, Miss Alice Booth, A Meier, W H Boyle, U S A, and family; Chas Lower, Jos Dion, N Freeman, W F Trimble and wife, D O'Donnell, H Bolton, Wm Thompson, Fred Gast, Mrs A M Johnson, Miss M B McMurry, E J McMurry, W F Johnson's messenger, and 20 in the steerage.

GONE IN SEARCH OF ANOTHER.—Mr. O'Bryan, [illegible] of the famous "Red [illegible]" now in this city, will start for Idaho in a week or two, and is satisfied that he has found such surface indications" of gold as to make it worth while to go to work, and to spend a year or two at it. He says he is going to find another "Red Ledge," sure, the discovery of its exact location being only a question of time. We hope his luck may be equal to his sanguine confidence.

[illegible] TO THE "PACIFIC."—We learn by telegraph that the steamship Pacific, in entering the harbor of Astoria, struck a sunken rock and sprung a leak, and it was necessary to beach her for repairs, there being no dry dock in that harbor. The channel is narrow and crooked, and there being, at the time, a strong wind blowing, the ship could not be steered quick enough and thus struck. The damage is not great to the vessel, the principal loss resulting from her detention in the harbor where there are no facilities for repairing.

SPECIAL QUESTIONS.—The State Sabbath School Convention, to be held in our city on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, will discuss great practical questions to which pastors and teachers of secular schools, as well as Sunday school workers, should give special attention. The addresses on "How to teach the Bible to the young," "The preparation of the Bible lesson," etc., etc., will be full of practical hints, worthy of the attention of all who are called upon to teach. The songs of Philip Phillips will in themselves be a sufficient attraction.

IMPROVED.—As an incident of the increase of business in the foundry and machinery line, we make mention that the Willamette Iron Works have been compelled to enlarge their moulding department. The blacksmith shop has been moved to the north end of the house, and into another, standing to the north end of the foundry. The activity here, are, however, no more than at the other foundries and machine shops in the city. All are busy and crowded to their capacity.

A "FANCY SHOT" AT BILLIARDS.—Mr. Dion [illegible] a "fancy shot" at the Cosmopolitan saloon on Monday evening which rather beats Rube's carom in a hat. He placed a wine glass bottom up on the table, another wine glass on top of that and a billiard ball on the top of all. He then played, making a carom on the ball thus placed, by what is called a jump shot, and without knocking the glasses down.

[illegible] —The steamship John L. Stephens was hauled over to the east side dock yesterday afternoon to take flour from the cars, and when she left she sailed directly from that dock without going to this side. Passengers and baggage will be taken across by the ferryboat. We do not recollect any former instance of a steamer's sailing from the East Side. This is, however, but a sign of what may soon become a common occurrence.

[illegible] —Among the passengers per steamer [illegible] was Rev. J. H. Vincent and Philip [illegible], who has come to take part in the Sabbath School Convention, which is to commence on [illegible] evening at the Presbyterian Church in this city. Mr. Philip Phillips will lead all the singing at the Convention, and on Saturday evening will give one of his "Evenings of Social Song."

STEAMER FARE REDUCED.—The fare from San Francisco to Portland by the Oriflamme was $20, including meals, and $16 in steerage, and we are informed that the opposition charged the same prices for passage by the Constantine. The present prospect is that these figures will remain at about those figures, though the heat of rivalry may melt them down a little, after a while.

ENTERTAINMENT.—Delegates to the Sunday School Convention can obtain all necessary information in regard to entertainment by applying at the room of the Young Men's Christian Association, over Ladd & Tilton's Bank, from 10 to 12 A. M. and from 1 to 4 P. M. on Thursday, and at the Sessions on Friday and Saturday.

[illegible] OF TOWN LOTS.—The new town laid off by the Railroad Company, seventeen miles south of Forest Grove, is called Halsey, in honor of the Vice President of the Company. We are informed that a number of lots in the town will be sold at auction, in this city, next Tuesday.

ESCAPED CONVICT CAPTURED.—A private telegram from Olympia, received in this city last evening, states that Capt. Williams, Sheriff of Thurston county, had captured the escaped convict Hurst or Burch. He was taken at Tacoma on Monday the 8th inst.

GERMAN SCHOOL MAY FESTIVAL.—A May Festival will be given at the East Portland Park, on Monday, May 21st, for the benefit of the Independent German School of this city. The programme will be announced in due time.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS AND HOMES.—We believe in Sunday Schools, but we believe in good homes more than in Sunday Schools. We hope our State Sabbath School Convention won't forget to emphasize this.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. Dion, the famous billiardist, left for California by the steamer last evening.

Mr. O. S. Savage, with a strong force of hands, succeeded to paint the steamer Annie Stewart.

The brick walls of Messrs. Savier & Co.'s building, corner of Front and Vine streets, were begun yesterday.

The grading of Holladay Avenue is progressing rapidly to completion.

The "square rise" is likely to interfere, very seriously with the grading of Second street in East Portland.

With two steamships just arrived and one about to depart, the wharves were very lively yesterday.

Every hotel in the city is overcrowded with boarders and travelers, she late arrivals finding great difficulty to find a place to sleep.

[illegible]'s Cologne is the best Hair dressing

BUSINESS NOTICES.

NEW GROCERY STORE.—Mr. Geo. A. Sheppard is a new candidate for public favor and patronage in the family grocery line. His place of business is First street, opposite the Fisk House.

LIQUOR DEALER.—It will be seen by advertisement Mr. M. Keith has gone into the wine and liquor trade, on First street, opposite the National Bank.

JOB PRINTERS.—Messrs. Coburn & McCabe, job printers, have a new advertisement this morning. We call attention to the last part of it, in relation to distributing and posting bills.

NEW LAW FIRM.—Messrs. J. J. Hoffman and Theodore Burmaster have formed a law partnership, and will enter vigorously into business at once. Office at No. 89, First street.

SEWING MACHINE AGENTS WANTED.—Mr. G. W. Traver, general agent for the Home Shuttle Sewing Machines, wants to engage active agents for the sale of the machines.

COOLING DRINKS.—When the hot days come on everybody will want to know where to go for ice. Call on Mr. George Kallish, on Taylor street, between First and Second. Ice delivered in any part of the city.

LANDS FOR SALE.—Messrs. Conklin, Illsley & Co., advertise this morning a long list of lots and blocks of city property and farms in the country, with prices attached. Consult the list, and call on those gentlemen for terms.

NOTICE.—L. White & Co. now offer to the trade their premium and extra prize collars for $15 a thousand.

BARBOUR'S CARPET THREAD is unequalled for strength and evenness of thread. Try it and be convinced of its superior qualities.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY is no Patent Medicine humbug gotten up to dupe the ignorant and credulous, nor is it represented as being "composed of rare and precious substances, brought from the four corners of the earth, carried seven times across the Great Desert of Sahara on the backs of fourteen camels, and brought across the Atlantic ocean on two ships." It is a simple, mild, soothing, pleasant Remedy, a perfect specific for Chronic Nasal Catarrh, "cold in the head" and kindred diseases. The proprietor, R V Pierce, M D, of Buffalo, N. Y. offers a reward of $500 for a case of Catarrh he cannot cure. For sale by most druggists everywhere. Sent by mail, postpaid, for sixty cents. Address the sole proprietor as above

AMUSEMENTS.

SKATING.—There was a good attendance at the rink last evening, notwithstanding the unfavorable weather. This amusement is likely to prove as popular as when first introduced.

CONCERT.—The Oregon Musical Institute Concert—same programme as last Saturday evening—will be repeated next Saturday evening. The proceeds will be devoted to the purchase of books for the Library.

THE TERRITORIES.

One hundred families, all new comers, have recently settled in the northwest part of Walla Walla county.

It is feared that the grasshoppers will take possession of Utah this summer, and, as a consequence the crops will be destroyed.

The prospectus of the Kalama Semi Weekly Beacon is issued. The first number of the paper will appear on or about the 16th inst.

After haggling a long time, two or three years years if we remember rightly, the Common Council of Walla Walla have voted to purchase a steam fire engine

Walla Walla papers have given up the idea that the North Pacific railroad will pass through their town, and devote their energies to advocating the construction of a railroad to connect them with the Columbia river.

CURRENT NOTES.

It is reported that James Gordon Bennett has formally made over the Herald to his son, valuing the entire property and good will at $3,000,000. He has taken no part in editing the paper for some time, and has not been in the office for nearly twelve months. He is now in his seventy-eighth year, quite feeble, and is steadily sinking.

A New York dispatch of the 5th gives this: The New York Labor Reform party, whose object is to abolish all trade unions and bring about a state of fraternal feeling between workingmen and employers, met to night. Delegates were present from various States. The general attendance was small. Resolutions were adopted condemning strikes and recommending the abolition of trade unions.

The Boston Advertiser remarks that the Republican party has gained at the hands of President Grant more than it dared ask for, all that it had a right to hope for, and much more than its enemies expected. He represents, it continues, at this moment the most advanced Republicans—that is to say, he is urging in all ways at his command, as no other man does, the policy of nationality and the policy of equal rights, which are the two cardinal principles for which the party exists at all.

Great excitement has prevailed for some days in New York about the trial of a man named Foster for the murder of another man named Graham. It is believed now that Foster will not be hanged. It is stated that the indictment is defective; premeditated design not being specially charged, it is merely for manslaughter. Foster is said to have been the companion and friend of many notorious ruffians and Tammany bullies, so useful on election days. His father has given five thousand dollars to his counsel, with a promise of twice as much if they save Foster from the gallows.

Not Lost.

The look of sympathy the gentle word,
Spoken so low that only angels heard,
The secret act of pure self-sacrifice,
Unseen by men but marked by angel eyes
These are not lost

The sacred music of a tender strain,
Wrung from a poet's heart by grief and pain,
And chanted timidly with doubt and fear
To busy crowds who scarcely pause to hear;
It is not lost.

The happy dreams that gladdened all our youth
When dreams had less of self and more of truth
The childlike faith, so tranquil and so sweet,
Which sat like Mary at the Master's feet
These are not lost

The kindly plans devised for other's good
So seldom guessed, so little understood
The quiet, steadfast love that strove to win
Some wanderer from the ways of sin
These are not lost.

Not lost, oh! Lord for in Thy city bright
Our eyes shall see the past by clearer sight
And things long hidden from our gaze below
Thou wilt reveal, and we shall surely know
They were not lost —The Argosy

In the Methodist Quarterly Review for April there is a notice of the work of the M E Church in the South in behalf of the freedmen We quote the following

Dr Summers, in a late 'Nashville Advocate states, as we have seen several times said since the civil war, that a very gross fetichism, serpent worship has been ground among southern negroes They are not surprised at such a fact as the Christian Recorder (colored) occasionally denies it—when we recollect that for years if not for centuries been a [illegible] to teach the negro to read the [illegible]rod We point Dr Summers to such [illegible]land colleges as we are erecting as are remedy, and invite him to engage, independently or co operatively, in the [illegible]on such institutions We, as well as shared in the guilt of that ignorance [illegible] the negro to fetichism and we [illegible]our share in effacing the guilt by removing the [illegible]rance If the Missionary Society as our right arm in the field of Christian enter[illegible] the Church Extension Society may soon [illegible] be its left. To send the minister to plant the church are two halves of one [illegible] Hence this young five year old Southern [illegible] was in its infancy, is mighty in its appeals lays its conding burden on our [illegible]es our churches, and our missionaries surely none who study its workings [illegible] feel the impulse of its movement [illegible] believe the prevalent impression [illegible] members of the Methodist Episcopal [illegible] had General Grant been defeated [illegible] last Presidental election, and [illegible] attempted to destroy the government elected to administer it, our [illegible] all its institutions South, its [illegible] leges, its pulpits, its ministers and societies would have been destroyed or [illegible] to the Northern section The possibility of this result was but too clearly evinced [illegible] the [illegible] and speeches of the destructive [illegible] South and North But it was those [illegible] and speeches, like the New Orleans massacre and the reckless menaces of the Vice Presidential candidate Blair, which [illegible] warned the nation; averted the dread disaster [illegible] gave our nation another lease of life Now it was the disclosure of this fear [illegible] spite the existing in the hearts of a large and [illegible]controlling share of the foes of our country which gave to the loyal people that two-thirds majority in the national Congress which carried us over every peril, and preserved our nationality unbroken

And it must not be disguised that a cold rumor is running through the veins of our people at the thought that another President at election approaching threatens us with a final realization [illegible] and those anticipated disasters. We trust that the Providence that has so signally [illegible] in our behalf is not, [illegible] new [illegible]rances, to forsake us

[illegible] Dix [illegible] PREPARED HIS [illegible] leave [illegible] in Congress, which suddenly [illegible] Webster to his feet he made [illegible] eloquent speech, apparently without any opportunity for previous preparation course of his remarks he threw [illegible] the following sentence, which [illegible] since been admired as one of the most [illegible] and expressive in the [illegible] language He was speaking of our military conflict with Great Britain "Our fathers raised their flag against a power to which, for purposes of foreign conquest and subjugation Rome in the height of her glory, is not to be compared, a power which [illegible] over the surface of the whole globe with her possessions and military posts, whose morning drum beat following the sun and keeping pace with the hours, circles the earth, with one continuous and [illegible] of the martial airs of England" As he sat down, one of the Senators congratulated him upon his speech, and, alluding to the above passage, said that to him it was incomprehensible how Mr Webster, in a speech so manifestly unpremeditated, could have formed so correct and so beautiful a sentence, which with the hours of study he could not improve Mr Webster replied that the passage was not extemporaneous, that, in his summer excursion he had visited Quebec, and while standing upon the massive and almost impregnable citadel there, looking out upon the wonderful scene of national grandeur and of nature's loveliness spread out before him; the idea occurred to his mind He immediately took his seat upon a gun, and, with pencil and paper sketched the thought in the most appropriate language he could at the moment command Upon arriving at his hotel he sat down at his leisure, and wrote it and rewrote it [illegible] many interlineations and erasures [illegible] has modeled it into the form of words which astonished him. He then laid it aside in his retentive memory, to be used when the occasion should offer The opportunity arose upon this day.

LOVE SIGNS IN SUNNY ITALY —Love making by signs is carried to perfection in Italy The [illegible]ch has many recommendations; for [illegible]overs are not seen together and don't write they are not easily found out Every [illegible]ow opens to the floor, and has a balcony, so that neighbors have great facilities for the pastime The language of love is very simple it is always the same, and always interesting and new The gentleman begins by taking out his handkerchief, which he passes [illegible] his forehead looking all the time at the lady and then wiping into his face and eyes expressions of admiration for her, at the same time [illegible] emphasizing her on her beauty by passing [illegible] over his mouth and chin The lady answer is a blush, hiding her face, or part of it behind her fan, and pointing to the rear to indicate that mamma is coming, and retreats Next time, the same play on the gentleman's side, followed by possibly a [illegible] of discouragement, from the lady [illegible]son he hugs his left side to express [illegible] loves her to distraction and the lady leaves [illegible] return the next day, and observe the [illegible]s, of course to her great astonishment and displeasure, repeat the previous [illegible] ending by showing her the palms of [illegible]nds, and looking entreaty, which any [illegible]g lady, even unacquainted with the particular language in question, would understand to mean I vow ty etc, that I love [illegible] more than—and so forth —Letter from Italy

On the authority of the London Observer it is said that Napoleon does not consider that the present Assembly represents the will of the French people, and that when the disorders have subsided, it will be necessary to institute measures to ascertain the popular wish It is safe to say that Monster Bonaparte will never be quite satisfied that any Assembly which is opposed to his recall to the Imperial throne can possibly reflect the popular will He has peculiar ideas concerning popular government in France, and one of these is that he is the only man whom the people prefer to rule them The idiosyncrasy of his seems to have followed him into exile, and it is probable, nay, most likely that at this moment he is wanting the auspicious day when France, left to her own free choice, will rise, with loud acclaim, and demand, "Give us back our Emperor!"

Eve was the only woman who never threatened to go and live with mamma And Adam was the only man who never tantalized his wife about "the way mother used to cook!"

Mrs Cady Stanton's lecture entitled "Why Not" another woman answers, 'Oh, because'

FOREIGN ITEMS

The Prussians will make their triumphal entry into Berlin on August 3d, the anniversary of the birthday of the father of the Emperor On the same day the monument commemorative of the Austro-Prussian war of 1866 will be unveiled in that city.

Every Russian Grand Duke and Grand Duchess, since the reign of Catharine I, has been able to obtain a pardon for any three felons, the pardon to be asked from the Czar on a national holiday In compliance with this custom, the wife of the Grand Duke Alexander (formerly Princess Maria Dagmar), has recently obtained pardon, it is said, for three prominent Poles, exiled to Siberia for complicity in a revolution

Republicanism, it seems, is making rapid progress in England, especially among the traders and laboring classes The Pall Mall Gazette of April 15th, has a long and forcible editorial on the subject, and calls attention to the facts that in no nation of Europe is the Republican spirit stronger than in England that Republican clubs are being organized in various parts of the country, that a considerable number of educated young men are revolutionists, and that a large party are far more anxious for reform in pecuniary than in political relations They want a reconstruction of the ownership of land, higher wages, and shorter hours of labor, and are willing to engage in bold agitation to secure them They are the same class of men as the French Reds and are in constant communication with them.

A German paper, the Voss Gazette, gives the following figures as the number of troops engaged on both sides in the battle of Koniggratz, (in the Austro-Prussian war) and in the principal battles of the late war Many of the figures are doubtless speculative Koniggratz, 240 000 Prussians, 220,000 Austrians and Saxons Gravelotte, from 240,000 to 270, 000 Germans, 'at least' 210,000 French Wpeth, 150,000 Germans, 60,000 French Spicheren 45 000 French, 42,000 Prussians, Mars-la-Tour, until 4 30 in the afternoon 45,000 Prussians against, at first, 120,000, afterwards 168,000 French, in the evening 100,000 Germans against 200,000 French, Sadua, 210,000 Germans, 150,000 French, Orleans, (third battle), 100 000 to 110 000 Germans, 200 000 to 240 000 French, Le Mans, 80,000 to 100 000 Germans 120 000 to 140,000 French, Belford and Montbeliard, 32,000 to 36,000 Germans, "at most," against 100,000 to 110,000 French The three greatest battles of the present century, so far as numbers go, are Leipzig (270,000 to 300,000 against 190,000) Gravelotte and Koniggratz
